ABOUT LATE SHRI DINABANDHU SAHU

Late Shri Dinabandhu Sahu was first and foremost a patriot, whose actions in public sphere, in and outside Government, were directed towards social, educational and economic advancement of people at large and development of the nation. He was deeply influenced by Mahatma Gandhi which was reflected in his humane dealing with all persons irrespective of their position or station in life. Everyone who interacted with him felt close to him. As a person, he was upright and fearless. He was a brilliant lawyer and his cross-examination skills were legendary. Dinabandhu Sahu had defended pro-bono several leaders of Prajamandala Movement and was later elected to the Orissa Legislative Assembly from Kendrapara Constituency in 1946, 1952 and 1957. He was also in the Council of Ministers of Orissa Government constituted in 1946, 1952 and 1957. As a Minister, Dinabandhu Sahu introduced a number of path breaking legislation and initiated many innovative schemes for industrialization and development of Orissa. Founder and President of Kendrapara College and Engineering School at Kendrapara President of Akhila Bharatiya Tailika Vaishya Mahasabha for many years District Governor of Rotary Club. Member, Orissa Study Group, National Police Commission Member of Mandal Commission. The Annual Memorial Lecture in memory of Shri Dinabandhu Sahu has been instituted by his daughter Prof. Sarmistha Sahu.
