Prof. (Dr.) Srikrishna Deva Rao

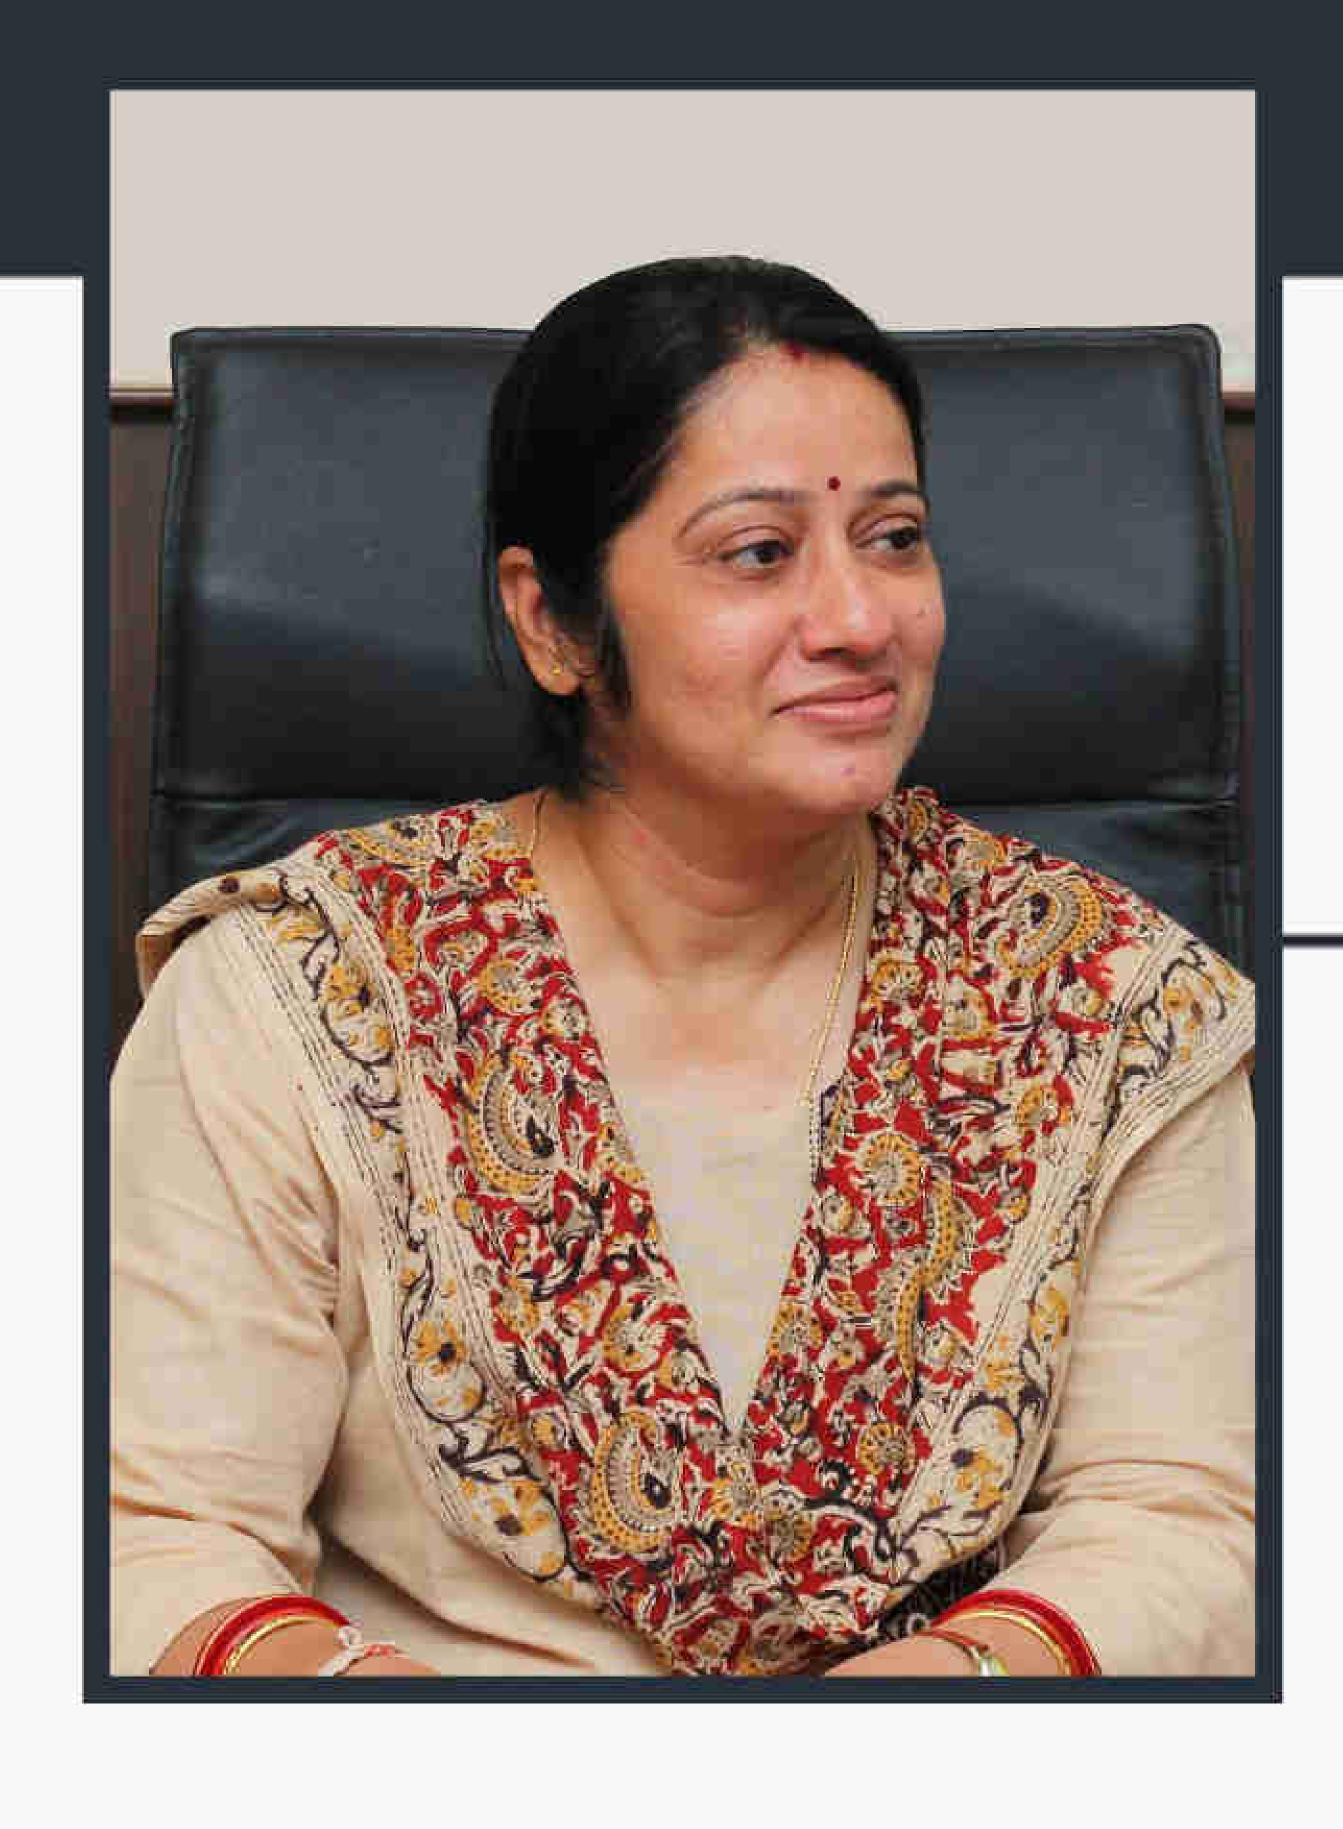

Greetings!

Since its establishment in the year 2009, National Law University Odisha has immerged as a leading center of legal education. The fourth batch of students of this University has time and again made us proud with their achievements and contributions. They have been active participants in every field starting from academic to clinical legal education. The university recognizes the importance of all round development of students by giving them the requisite exposure. This batch has succeeded in availing the opportunities with a positive outlook. They have shown immense hard work and sincerity towards mooting, debating, publications, seminars, conferences, clinical legal education and legal aid. This has set a benchmark for the upcoming batches to pursue the same with more determination and enthusiasm. Also, the students have had the privilege of interacting and working with distinguished judges, practicing advocates, leading firms and corporate houses enriching their practical experience. It has been a delight to see them bag such achievements in addition to academic excellence. The students of this batch have not been trained to be merely pedantic scholars but also have been extensively trained to perform as professionals. I can say with utmost certainty that they would positively be an asset to any recruiter and would give their best to the profession. We only seek your support and cooperation in helping them realize their true potential.

Research Culture

Mooting Culture

NLUO, right from its inception, has focused on the critical evaluation of existing notions of society on a wide array of issues ranging from complexities in the International sphere in WTO to the dismal living conditions of riverside settlers in Cuttack. In order to channelize the efforts and research activities undertaken, NLUO has housed a number of research centers, a majority of which are funded by the United Nations Development Project (UNDP) Access to Justice Project. Some of these centers are the Centre for Banking & Insurance Laws, Centre for Corporate & Commercial Laws, Intellectual Property Analysis and Advocacy Centre and Centre for Outreach & Research in Agricultural Law. Publications Research & Centres and their work apart, NLUO has actively fostered a culture of curiosity and emphasized on generating significant levels of research outputs. Several academic journals and publications, backed and nurtured by the finest legal minds of India, and a result of the dedication and perseverance of the students of NLUO have come to be published in the recent past. Some of these are the NLUO Law Journal, Journal of Banking and Insurance Laws, Colloquium Opus Law Journal & NLUO Student Law Review

NLUO has had the privilege of hosting India (South) rounds of the prestigious Stetson Environmental Law Moot Court Competition for two consecutive years. In the year 2014, NLUO came up with its flagship moot event, The NLUO Maritime Law Moot Court Competition in conjunction with the Paradip Port Trust. The Moot was host to more than 20 teams across the country and was a huge success. In addition, the Intra-University Moot Court Competition (IUMCC) is organized every year by the TMS for the purposes of inculcating a culture of mooting among students. NLUO has been able to achieve remarkably high level of consistency in its moot court performances. This has been possible only through the hard work of students, TMS and NLUO's policy of extending financial assistance to students for participating in national and international moot court competitions.

The Moot Society (TMS) of NLUO is managed by the students under the guidance of a faculty advisor. It enjoys the mandate to coordinate all as-
