

HUMAN RIGHTS LAW JOURNAL

CALL FOR PAPERS 2025

NATIONAL LAW UNIVERSITY ODISHA

ABOUT

The Human Rights Law Journal (HRLJ) is the annual double-blind peer-reviewed publication of National Law University Odisha. It aims to foster research on national and international human rights and contemporary legal issues across disciplines. It publishes original articles, case comments, book reviews, and analyses of significant legislative, judicial, and policy developments. It is guided by an editorial committee and an advisory board comprising distinguished legal luminaries from across the world. The Journal encourages contributions that seek to expand the frontiers of legal thought through innovative approaches to research and writing.

SUBMISSION PROCESS

The Human Rights Law Journal welcomes original and unpublished articles, case comments, and book reviews for consideration in its upcoming issue. The submissions will undergo a double-blinded peer-reviewed process. Final selection will be made on the basis of the review recommendations by the editorial board. The deadline for submissions is 20th July 2025. All submissions are to be emailed to hrlj@nluo.ac.in.

All submissions must comply with the format suggested below.

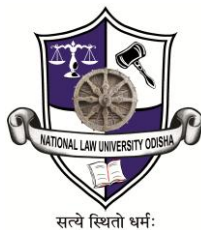

SUBMISSION TYPE

Articles

Articles should be in the nature of a comprehensive analysis of the issues being dealt with. They must provide an in-depth understanding of the relevant issues through either doctrinal or empirical research. Comparative studies outlining the similar and contrasting features of different systems of law are also encouraged.

Case Comments/Legislative Comments

A case comment should provide a critical appreciation of any leading/recent case of a judicial authority. The comment should also explain the impact of the judgment on the law as it existed prior to the judgment and the impact of such judgment on the future development of law. A legislative comment should be a well-knit analytical report of any legislative enactment in the form of a statute, an amendment to a statute, rules under any statute, or notified government regulations or policies.

Book Reviews

The authors are expected to analyse any book written by leading scholars and academics in terms of the overall relevance of the book. Authors are expected to examine the contribution of the book on existing domain knowledge and also its relevance in further developments of law. Authors are also expected to highlight such elements or themes discussed in the book, which are either unexplored or underexplored.
