Simultaneously, the members of the Club initiated the "Nyayabandhu App installation campaign" under which students explained the benefits of the Nyayabandhu app and how both advocates and ordinary citizens seeking to avail legal assistance could reap benefits from the same.

Multiple guests expressed their curiosity regarding the benefits of the application. After a thorough presentation regarding the multifarious benefits that could be enjoyed, the guests agreed to become benefactors and remain in contact with the University.

Apart from informing the guests of the Nyaya Bandhu app and the Pro Bono activities already conducted by the University, the students comprehensively discussed the benefits of the Alternative Dispute Resolution mechanism. With the help of informational circulars, legal handouts, and interactive Posters the students were able to successfully engage with a large audience and break through the stereotypes surrounding our legal system.

The students then proceeded to inform the guests of the future ventures that the Pro Bono Club has decided to undertake. These include awareness drives, interactive workshops, multilingual skits in rural areas, and the adoption of villages.
